The above Deaneeries met at Banff on September 11th to 15th. The members arrived at Banff on the 8:05 p.m. train from Calgary. That same evening the first paper on the book "The Holy Catholic Church" by Sevet, was given by Canon James. On Tuesday morning there was a celebration of Holy Communion at 7.15 a.m. and Bible study at ten from St. Paul's 11 Epistle to Timothy. This was followed by the next paper on the above book given by Canon Gale. In the afternoon the Deaneeries journeyed to the Cave basin and some of them took in the sulphur baths there. At 5 p.m. the Deaneeries met under the chairmanship of Archdeacon Dewdney of Red Deer. The following questions were discussed and resolutions passed in connection with them.

(1) A letter was read from Canon MacMillan on the "Empire Magazine." After some discussion the following resolution was passed unanimously: "That this joint meeting of the Rural Deaneeries of Calgary and Red Deer puts itself on record as being in full sympathy with the efforts of the Sunday School Commission to produce a magazine for the children of our Sunday Schools and declares itself as willing to support such an effort by introducing the magazine into their parishes. This meeting is strongly of the opinion that such a magazine should not be bound up with the lessons as is now the case."

Moved by Rev. A. V. Grant, Banff, seconded by Rev. G. N. Finn, Red Deer.

(2) Next question discussed was that of finance, and the following resolution was passed: "Resolved that the Clergy of the Rural Deaneeries of Calgary and Red Deer assembled in session at Banff, desires to assure the committee dealing with Diocesan Finance, of our loyal and hearty support in the movement to lessen the debt on the Diocese and will cooperate as far as possible with said committee and await further instructions as to how we may render assistance."

Moved by Canon James, seconded by Canon Gale. Carried unanimously.

In the afternoon through the kindness of Archdeacon Dewdney and Rev. A. V. Grant, the Clergy had a motor trip round Banff visiting Lake Minicopa, Sun House Canyon and the C. P. R. hotel.

Votes of thanks were passed during the day to Mr. and Mrs. Grant and the Ladies Guild of Banff, for their hospitality and kindness in giving the members a pleasant time.

"Germany Is Kaput," Said a Hun Soldier, Frightened of "Tank"

London, Sept. 19.—Phillip Gibbs, in a dispatch to the Chronicle, gives some stories of talks he had with German men and officers captured during Friday's fierce fighting on the British front. He says: "Germany is kaput," said one of their non-commissioned officers. He meant that Germany is down, in the soup, as the British soldiers would say. It was an exaggeration, for Germany still has a lot of fight left in her, but it was the belief of her captured soldiers, yesterday. The British were excited, excited by the smell of victory.

Describing the scenes about Martinpuich, the Chronicle's correspondent writes: "The first waves were inside the first trenches at Martinpuich and in advance of them waddled a monster. The men were held up for some time by the machine guns, but the monster went on alone. They went straight through the shells of broken barns and houses, straddled on top of German dugouts, and fired on flying shots down the trenches. From one dugout came a colonel with a very frightened face, who held his hands very high in front of the 'tank,' shouting 'Kamerad, kamerad.' 'Well, come inside, then,' said a voice from the top of the barn, and a human hand came forth from a hole suddenly opened and grabbed the German officer.

"The rest of the day the 'tank' led that unfortunate man about on the strangest journey the world has ever seen.

"SHOOT 'MERCY, MERCY'"

"Another 'tank' was confronted with 100 Germans, who shouted 'mercy, mercy,' and at the head of this procession led them back as prisoners to the British lines. Yet another 'tank' went off to the right of Martinpuich, and was so fresh and high-spirited that it went far into the German lines, as if it was on the way to Berlin.

"The first news of success came through from an airman's wireless, which said: 'A "tank" is walking up the high street of Flers, with the British army cheering behind.'

"It was an actual fact. One of the motor machines was there enjoying itself thoroughly and keeping down the heads of the Germans. It hung out a big piece of paper on which were the words: 'Great Hun defeat special.' An aeroplane flew low over the monster machine—gunning the scared Germans, who fled before this monstrous apparition.

On Sunday last Mr. and Mrs. Laxton accompanied by Miss Kiser and Mr. Morris motored to Alix, Lacomb and Red Deer.

Miss Cullham, of Vancouver, B.C., who has been visiting at her home here for the last month left on Monday for the Coast. Miss Ella Cullham and Mrs. Ferrel accompanied her as far as Calgary, and will remain in the city a few days.

A wedding of considerable interest to Delburne people was solemnized on Saturday last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Laxton Smith when their daughter, Miss Flossie Ainsley, was united in marriage to Mr. Cullham. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Haddon. The bride was escorted by Miss Lawrence, of Ontario, cousin of the bride. The bridesmaids were Misses Potts, Keane, and Smith. The bride wore a smart tailored suit of dark navy with stitiches of grey and her hat was a rose felt top shape. The happy couple left on the afternoon train for Edmonton and showers of confetti. Mrs. Smith and her sister have been here for over a year having come from Leamington, Ontario. She will be greatly missed circles and her many friends here wish her much happiness.

"Trafalgar Day" October 21st

It is fully understood by a few that the "Red Cross" (who are doing such a wonderful patriotic work for the soldiers) do not provide any comforts for the soldiers already in the trenches. The Local Council of Women of the City are getting up a scheme to send a large number of Christmas boxes to the Red Deer boys now in the trenches. The boxes to consist of soap, gloves, underwear, tobacco, handkerchiefs, little books, sweets, instant powder, soap tablets, leather boot laces, gum, cigarettes, playing cards, pencils, shirts, small towels, pipes, moustache, cocoa, etc. These boxes will be sent direct to Majors Gatz, Page, (Rev.) Wilson and (Rev.) Capt. Harris, Rev. Capt. Pearson, for them to distribute to the men as required specially by them. It is proposed to solicit any articles, old or new, from country or city, that will be sold at a monster auction sale on Trafalgar Day, October 21st. The loyal patriotic and generous citizens of the city are urgently requested to make the scheme their hearty co-operation. Details are being worked out. In the meantime it is intimate to the people what it is desired to be done. "Let every man do his duty."

Chicken-fattening

Mr. D. Morseberg has established at the Red Deer creamery this year a poultry collecting, fattening and finishing station under charge of Mr. Frank F. King, of Calgary, a poultry specialist, which he will continue until the New Year. Mr. Morseberg is taking in chickens at his Elora, Markerville and Red Deer creameries, and at all these places they are crated fattened. The chickens at Elora and Markerville, when fattened, are forwarded to the collecting station at the Red Deer creamery, where they are finished and placed on the market. At Elora on Tuesday the crates were full to the limit with some 800 chickens, fattening, waiting to be fattened in the waiting pen, and wagons bringing in chickens every five or ten minutes. The fattened chickens are beginning to arrive in Red Deer, and the local supply is now coming in as well.

THE PATRONAGE SYSTEM

The Edmonton Bulletin says the Bowser Government of B.C. can owe its defeat to the patronage system that the Brewster Government is pledged to wipe out the patronage system root and branch, and metaphorically speaking puts the Brewster element on the back. How strange! The Bulletin need not go to another province to condemn the patronage system, it has only to look to the Sifton Government, the government which has always received its unwavering support, to find one of the most patronage-mongering governments in Canada. The Sifton government wouldn't buy a lead pencil or give out five cents worth of work without bringing the rotten patronage system into use with the full approval of the Bulletin. The Edmonton paper by going so far ahead to condemn a Conservative Government for what it thinks at home does another nail in the coffin of the Sifton government, which will be wiped out at the first opportunity by the people of Alberta, and the skill way is being grasped daily by the Liberal press.

COUNTING THE CHICKENS

The Calgary News-Telegraph rises to remark that the Calgary Liberal Newspaper has it figured out already that the Laurier party for which it speaks is going to make a clean sweep in these parts when the next Dominion election comes off, and that the Sifton aggregation is going to continue in office in Edmonton, perhaps, until Sir Clifford "goes home." It is always a pretty good policy not to count any political chickens until the politicians on the other side have given a chance to "hatch." And, if they can not "hatch" something better than the product of the Hon. Arthur Lewis and the Rt. Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, which is been on the Quebec nest for about twenty years, and has not yet "hatched" anything save a "bimodal white elephant" then we'll lay down our own arms and elap Sir Wilfrid's little Saskatchewan musket to our bosom.

TOURISTS ARE GENEROUS

That the tourists who are coming to Western Canada every summer in considerable numbers have their pockets in the right place is indicated by a little voluntary collection taken up at the C.P.R. Chet at Lake Louise a short time ago on behalf of the Canadian Red Cross. As a result of this collection Manager Evans, of the Chet, has forwarded to the Calgary Branch of the Red Cross the sum of $75, which was much appreciated by the Red Cross cash donations are greatly needed. The visitors who contributed to the collection represented many parts of the globe, but were mainly from the United States.

WHY WE NEED CONSCRIPTION

It was late at night but not when a mother sat rocking, rocking, and thinking of the "only boy" in the family who was "somewhere in France" tonight. How strange it was she could not of American beef last year as against none at all in the year before the war.

In other terms, the United States has exported to Europe during the two years of the war 29 times as much beef as in the two years immediately preceding the war, and this in the face of a decrease in the supply of cattle and decline of domestic imports of meat to less than half the amount of 1914. Is there any wonder that the price of meat for home consumption is higher than at any time since the Civil War?

The Edmonton Bulletin, the personal organ of the Hon. Frank Oliver, has been making some vague hints as to the cause of the shortage of meat. The Bulletin, about the connection of the Hon. Robert Rogers with the collection of campaign funds in Manitoba. The Hon. Frank has probably been in the political game long enough to know that campaign funds are usually raised by political parties, and that it has required large bunches of them to elect not only Mr. Oliver himself, but the Sifton crowd in Alberta, as well as the Sifton crowd at Ottawa, the predecessors of Mr. Oliver. Aside from that altogether, however, Mr. Oliver's organ has been making some vague hints about the connection of the Hon. Robert Rogers with the collection of campaign funds in Manitoba. The Hon. Frank has probably been in the political game long enough to know that campaign funds are usually raised by political parties, and that it has required large bunches of them to elect not only Mr. Oliver himself, but the Sifton crowd in Alberta, as well as the Sifton crowd at Ottawa, the predecessors of Mr. Oliver. Aside from that altogether, however, Mr. Oliver's organ has been making some vague hints about the connection of the Hon. Robert Rogers with the collection of campaign funds in Manitoba.

It is this, all. Provincial funds, to the amount of thousands of dollars, have been stolen. Miles and miles of roads, which were never built, have been paid for by the treasury. The waste, to use no stronger word, of money in connection with the erection of the Parliament buildings in the Province is unparalleled in any other province of the Dominion. And as the investigation proceeds there is good reason to believe that many other racialities will be disclosed.

Our New Governor-General

Victor Christian William Cavendish, ninth Duke of Devonshire, governor-general-elect of Canada, comes of a family of ancient lineage. The title ranks as ninth in order of seniority among English dukes, writes Geo. B. Catlin in the Detroit News.

The present duke is a son of the late Lord Edward Cavendish and a nephew of the late duke. He was born May 31, 1868. He married Lady Evelyn Fitzmaurice, daughter of the fifth marquess of Lansdowne, in 1892. They have two sons and five daughters. The present duke and governor-general-elect was educated at Eton and Trinity College, Cambridge. He served as member of parliament for Derbyshire from 1891 to 1896, the year of his uncle's death. He has also been treasurer of his majesty's household, member of the royal household, and lieutenant of the Tower of London. He is president of the territorial forces of Derbyshire and a chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster.

He is one of the richest men in England and of the world. He owns 150,000 acres of land in England, which includes some of the richest lands of Lancashire and Derbyshire, and several of the most beautiful country estates in the world. In this mansion, Mary Queen of Scots was imprisoned for 13 years. The facade of Chatsworth house is 220 feet long and 120 feet high. The ornamental grounds are nine miles in circuit and are only surpassed by those of Versailles, upon which the duke has expended hundreds of millions of French francs.

Other fine estates are Hardwick hall in Derbyshire; Compton place, Eastbury, Wiltshire; and the duke's own home at Devonshire house at 78 Piccadilly. In addition the duke has for his London residence the magnificent palace known as Devonshire house at 78 Piccadilly.

The first peer of the Cavendish family was the second son of one of the commissioners appointed by King Henry VIII to take over the crown lands of the dissolved monasteries. Through his mother the first peer held two fine estates, Hardwick hall and Oldwicks. The titles of the Cavendish family came about in this order: Baron Cavendish in 1606; Earl of Devonshire in 1694; Duke of Devonshire in 1794. The Cavendishes were originally a Saxon family which migrated to Derbyshire. There are no known connections of the family with the county of Devonshire, but it has long been the fashion to designate the title of duke by some county name. The Cavendishes were already appreciated by the Spaniards the first earl of the house of Derbyshire, was given the title of Earl of Devonshire by Charles II. The duke of Devonshire was the duke of Devonshire, the country was continued.

The oldest son of the present duke is the Marquis of Hartington. He has four daughters: Lady Mary, Lady Emma, Lady Lavinia, and Lady Evelyn. Lady Mary is married to the Marquis of Hartington. Lady Emma is married to the Marquis of Hartington. Lady Lavinia is married to the Marquis of Hartington. Lady Evelyn is married to the Marquis of Hartington.

The late duke and also Lord Edward Cavendish, father of the present duke, were brothers of Lord Frederick Cavendish, chief secretary for Ireland, who was murdered by Irish revolutionaries in Phoenix Park, Dublin, on May 6, 1882, in company with Thomas Burke, under secretary.

SASKATCHEWAN NEXT IN LINE

(Winnipeg Telegram)

It is difficult to see how the dominion party in Saskatchewan can derive much comfort from what happened to the Bowser government in British Columbia last week. If the result on the coast is to be interpreted as a decision to change things up in Canada, the approach to the dominion party is to be interpreted as a decision to change things up in Canada.

Despite the avowed abuse with which the writ machine has greeted every step in the campaign process in Saskatchewan, the royal commissions and the criminal courts have been gradually acquiescing the election of the Bowser government. The Bowser government has been administered during the last year.

The role of the disunion among officials and politicians grows steadily larger. It began with a suicide to escape trial and exposure. It has already been a one man in the penitentiary and there is another, a member of the legislature, awaiting sentence after pleading guilty to forgery and other crimes. Three members of the legislature who support the Bowser government have been condemned by a royal commission for squeezing money from the people under the name of the Bowser government.

How can the Scott government expect a vote of confidence from the people under such conditions? Probably it really has no such expectation but is merely holding on as long as possible, with a full knowledge of what fate awaits it as soon as the electors get a chance.

Conservatives Elected In New Brunswick

New Minister and Running Mate Elected by Big Majorities

St. John, N. B., Sept. 21.—(B.N.) B. Franklin Smith, recently appointed minister of public works, and W. S. Sifton, the Conservative leader, were elected to the New Brunswick legislature today in the Carleton county by-election. Messrs. Smith and Sifton each had a clear majority over the opposition candidates. (Andrew J. McLean and George W. Upham, a former member of the legislature.) Mr. McLean was elected in the total of 1,078 votes, while Mr. Sifton was elected by a margin of 1,078 votes. Mr. Sifton was nominated to take the place of Donald Munro, after the latter had accepted a government position, pulled 473 votes more than did Mr. McLean.

The voting, as compiled late tonight, upon receipt of the figures from the different parishes, gave the following result: Smith, 2,848; Sifton, 2,733; McLean, 2,269; Upham, 2,171. There are 11 parishes in Carleton county. In all except these Messrs. Smith and Sifton were given a clear majority. Richmond polled Smith, 1,938; Sifton, 1,777; McLean, 1,348; Upham, 1,267. Wakefield registered 194 votes for Smith; 191 for Sifton; 101 for McLean; and 189 for Upham. St. John's registered 220 votes for Smith; 226 for Sifton; 217 for McLean; and 217 for Upham.

The by-election was necessitated by the resignation of Hon. John H. Sifton, minister of public works, in the Conservative government from 1908 until the first of this year. Mr. Morrissey's resignation was brought about by the loss of his seat in the House of Commons. Mr. Sifton, former deputy minister, following a secret investigation and disclosures made by Blair, Mr. Blair has been appointed to take part in the opposition campaign.

A previous attempt to fill the vacancy in the cabinet was made by appointment of Hon. H. G. Mahoney. He was defeated in Westmorland on May 30, Mr. Mahoney continued to hold office for three months, although not a member of the legislature, until the appointment of Mr. Smith just one month ago.

Crown Prince's Message Admits Failure at Verdun

Paris, Sept. 22.—The oak leaves of the German crown prince's message are regarded here as the sugar coating on the Verdun pill for, despite the congratulatory opening of the prince's message to the troops, a despondent note is sounded by the admission that the importance of the battles around Verdun cannot yet be estimated and that rarely in history have such efforts been demanded of an army under such difficult circumstances. In the words of the prince, the Verdun attack has ended in a check-mate.

The opinion is that the high military distinction awarded to the imperial way of shielding the heir apparent for France, which was recalled by Von Falkenhayn who counselled the Verdun operation, seems to confirm the impression that they have been definitely abandoned.

Teachers' Courses at The Institute of Technology and Art Leading to First Class Certificates

Arrangements have been made whereby teachers holding Grade XI certificates may obtain a Grade XII or First Class Certificate while still remaining in charge of their schools. It has been the policy of the Department of Education to encourage teachers to equip themselves for public service to the highest point of efficiency. Many school boards have placed themselves on record as favoring the engagement of holders of First Class Certificates only. For higher academic qualifications evening classes, special courses and summer sessions have been of great value. The Institute of Technology and Art now offers extra-mural courses in any or all of the subjects required for the Grade XII examination. Instruction and guidance will be rendered by the members of the staff, who are highly qualified specialists in the various departments. The systematic tuition and instruction of the staff and the confidential report will be recognized by the Department of Education. Classes by correspondence in the various subjects will be started as soon as the necessary arrangements have been received as to the scope of the courses offered, so that the enrolment of students will be facilitated.

Further announcements as to the details of the courses will be made to the various school boards. Applications should be forwarded to G. R. Dolan, M.A., Provincial Institute of Technology and Art, Calgary, as soon as possible, and not later than October 1st.

Russian Dashes Are Too Much For Turk

Break Through Positions and Capture Much Loot-Busy In Black Sea

Petrograd, via London, Sept. 23.—(Russian official)—Russian advance guard, at the end of the day, broke through Turkish fortified position near Giumrich, in the Caucasus, breaking through the position and inflicting heavy losses. It is said today's Russian official statement. A greater part of the camp stores were burned by the Russians. The statement says: "Caucasian front: In the region southwest of Giumrich our advance guards made a surprise attack on an enemy fortified post, breaking through it and inflicting serious losses upon the enemy. We captured here arms, cartridges and other equipment, but had to burn a considerable part of the camp stores owing to the impossibility of carrying them away." "Black Sea: Off the port of Poti (Asian Minor) one of our torpedo boat squadrons sank three steamers and several sailing ships loaded with coal."

400 Square Miles in North Swept by Fires

Spirit River, Alta., Sept. 22.—It is now estimated that over 400 square miles of territory has been swept by the flames of an early rain. The big fire, sweeping eastward from the Spirit River, has been burning for the last 24 hours if the wind does not increase. An immense tract of territory has been cleared in the Spirit River valley, and the Spirit River, which still continues fiercely. The mountains to the south of Spirit River, which are still covered with snow, are now lying under a heavy pall of smoke.

Turks Are Fighting on the Riga Front

London, Sept. 22.—The Turkish troops have appeared on the Riga front, says a Reuters dispatch from Petrograd. They are led by German and Austrian officers and their whole equipment is German.

This is the first time that the presence of Turkish troops in the Riga front has been reported. Several weeks ago Turkish troops appeared in Galicia with the Germans and Austro-Hungarians, and they have taken part in much heavy fighting. Turkish troops also are aiding the Germans and Bulgarians in their advance into Romania.

Casualties Are Up To 42,000

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—With the toll of 1,000 casualties in the battle of Moquet the total casualties among overseas forces up to yesterday's date are as follows: Killed in action, 6,652; died of wounds, 2,505; died of sickness, 447; wounded, 927; missing, 1,052, and were captured, 40,182. The remarkable feature of the casualties is the small list of dead from sickness compared with former wars.

GIVE YOUR MOTHER A CHANCE TO ENJOY LIFE

Don't be Selfish in Leaving the Best One in the World at Home When You Go Out to the "Movies"

"All alone again?" I said when I found my friend, Mrs. Brice, sitting by the fire with her knitting. "Yes, Kate and Mabel have gone to the 'movies,' and they are going to have tea out somewhere. They want a little enjoyment, you know."

I agreed, but it struck me that a little outing would not have done their mother any harm. They were both business girls, and probably found the daily grind of office routine left them hungering for diversion.

It did not occur to them that continual housework might have the same effect on their hard working mother, and so Saturday after Saturday they went off to the theatre, leaving their mother to a repetition of every other day in the week.

Kate and Mabel were not more selfish than a good many other girls, but they did not realize that in the cold mother whose whole happiness was bound up in their doings.

Help Her to Enjoyment

If they were in trouble she shared those troubles, but when it was a case of pleasure they were content to let her stand aside and look on. Of course, she didn't complain—mothers don't—but deep down in her heart was the feeling that old age would have seemed much further off had she been permitted to share the pleasures of youth.

There are many cases of this kind, in which the mother should have some other share than that of baking cakes and looking after the creature comforts of the guests.

What Do You Think?

Why not arrange sometimes that mother shall be a guest in her own home. Plan your own little festivities, take all the preparations on your own shoulders, and don't ask mother to do anything save perhaps preside over the tea table your efforts have equaled.

Won't she be proud to do it, and won't she enjoy the cake she has made and the scones made for her? Won't she enjoy the new to her? Won't she enjoy the day of her own making, enough to take part in the after tea proceedings, and more than all the thought which prompted her daughter to take the household responsibility off her shoulders.—Pearson's Weekly.

NAIL CUTTING

Cut nails on Monday, cut them for health;
Cut them on Tuesday, cut them for love;
Cut them on Wednesday, cut them for a letter;
Cut them on Thursday, cut them for something better;
Cut them on Friday, you cut for a wife;
Cut them on Saturday, cut for a long life;
Cut them on Sunday, you cut them for evil.
For all of that week you'll be ruled by the devil!
Although the last two lines are somewhat drastic, they are little less modified in the other version that goes:
A man had better never be seen than have his nails on Sunday shorn!

Graperfruit Pie

First bake a shell as for lemon pie, then make a filling as follows: Mix one tablespoonful cornstarch in a little cold water, and over this pour one cupful boiling water. To this add the juice of two grapefruit, the grated rind of half of one orange, the white of two eggs and the white of one, sugar to taste, and a small piece of butter. Put all in the double boiler and cook until thick, stirring all the time. When done put in the shell. Then beat up the whites of the second egg with half a cupful of sugar, until thick, and spread with a knife over the pie. Put in the oven and let brown lightly. Serve cold.

Rabbit Head Crucifix

No more beautiful and more touching episode of the war has been made than the following, described in a private letter from the front: "Rabbit Head Crucifix was fatally wounded at Saint Die by a fragment of a shell at the moment when he rendered a crucifix to a wounded soldier who had taken him for a Catholic priest."

Chestnut Soup

Cut a slit in the shells of a pint of chestnuts, cover with boiling water and let boil two minutes. Drain well, take off shells, add a teaspoonful of butter and shake over a quick fire five minutes. Put the chestnuts in a pan with one quart beef broth or chicken broth. Let simmer over a tender, then press the chestnuts through a sieve. Season, let come to a boil again, then remove to a cooler place and stir in the beaten yolks of three eggs.

Laundry Colored Fabrics

Bright and delicately colored fabrics are often ruined in the process of laundering by soap being rubbed upon them or a bit accidentally adhering to them. To prevent such a mishap keep your tub of laundry soap, when washing, tied up in a small sack of material. Better suds can be made in this way, and also every bit of soap can be used, preventing all waste.

The Patriotic Honor Roll

If an honor roll of those communities which have done best for the Patriotic Fund were to be established, the village of Erskine would surely merit a prominent place on it. With a population of somewhat less than 200, Erskine has contributed to the Patriotic Fund since the first of February the sum of $705.50. It is perhaps not wise to make comparisons, as no doubt there are other places with similarly creditable showings, but if every locality responded as Erskine has done, there would be no problem about raising the Patriotic Fund. How many communities will move over into the Erskine class when the big campaign starts shortly?

Manitoba Threshing Over Half Through

Yields of All Grains Will Be Low According to Present Turnout

Winnipeg, Sept. 22.—At the beginning of the week threshing was from 50 to 90 per cent of the province, the southern portions of the province, says the government crop report issued today, but the progress was very much more delayed farther north, the crop there being later to harvest and delay having occurred through rain. In the north threshing is only just commenced. In all parts of the province farmers starting threshing from the stock almost entirely. In the southern districts, where the rain attack was worst, the wheat yields from threshing machines have averaged from about eight bushels up to 12 bushels. In the northern districts yields will average about twenty bushels of wheat, with individual fields higher.

Wheat and barley, the provinces over, are more satisfactory than wheat, but the yields of these will also be low, especially in the southern districts. This season a new feature has developed in connection with the threshing: that is the practice in many parts of the province of burning the straw, rather than using it for the bushel. This results from the unsatisfactory returns in grain from much of the straw. Where threshing is done by the bushel, the rate is mostly higher than usual.

Alberta Farmers' Live Stock Bulletin

Cattle. Prices on top steers ruled from $6.65 to $6.90. We realized the late price of 2 cars of cattle from Jenner. Mottum steers $6.35 to $6.50. Half fat $6.25 to $6.50. Choice cows $6.65. Choice cows $6.65. Stockers and feeders were in excellent demand, and we realized $6.35 for cars of feeders consigned to us from Tees. These were brought to go in the feed lot. $6.25 was the average price ruling on good stocker and feeder cattle, and the demand exceeded the supply. Calves and yearling feeders were in great demand, but hardly obtainable. Hogs. The market for hogs reached $11.35 Friday on the bulk of the consignments, $11.25 on all Friday, but the early in the week receipts were light. Packers announce a dollar per hundred pounds cut on light and medium hogs.

Sheep. Fat and stocker sheep sold steadily, top lambs making $9.25. Weathers $8.55. Fat ewes $7.50. The similar young stock ewes sold at $7.50 for $10.50 each. Prices for steers, hogs and lambs this week a year ago $7.75, $9.00, and $7.50 respectively.

Steady. Fat common to choice butcher ..... $6.00-$6.70

Waterworks Intake

Engineer Dawe Reports on Conservation and Filtration Proposals

At the City Council meeting Thursday Engineer Dawe submitted the following report:

Red Deer, Alberta,
August 24, 1918

To the Commissioners and Council,
City of Red Deer, Alberta

Dear Sirs:—
As requested by your Council at a meeting held at the City Waterworks Intake, desiring certain information as to cost of making improvements at the intake with a view to clarifying the City water supply of silt, which is so prevalent during the rainy season, I wish to submit to you the following estimates of cost:

I suggest the following methods, which you might consider as to their relative merits. And I also give my comments on the value of the different suggestions I offer.

Firstly.

To reconstruct old intake by one of the following methods:—

(a) To raise crib work walls 12 ft. from present height without cover over top.

(b) To raise crib work walls 6 ft. from present height, and place cover over top.

This method of filtration would give practically the same results in times of freshet that the wells are giving at the present time, as you will see from the following facts:—

The present wells have each a screening area of 360 sq. ft. or 720 sq. ft. in the two wells, having a thickness of 2 ft.

The area of the filter wall of the old intake, when reconstructed, would be 500 sq. ft. and would have a thickness of 12 ft.

While the filter medium in the old intake restored would be more efficient, on account of its extra thickness as compared with the screens now in the wells, and as the City is now using in the neighborhood of 200,000 gallons of water per day of 24 hours, the large surplus of silt, while the river is in flood, would choke up this filter in a comparatively short time. The cleaning of this old filter would be practically impossible, and in the winter time it would become liable to complete failure, due to frost, whereas both of these disadvantages are overcome by the present system of wells, which was the primary object aimed at in their installation.

Secondly.

I would suggest the following method of dealing with your difficulty, and which would also have the advantage of being an additional part of a permanent scheme of water supply, namely, that of sedimentation.

In brief, the water would be taken from the river, and screened of its coarser suspended matter by the screens and wells at present in use, passing there to a sedimentation basin in duplicate, where the water would remain in a state of quiescence for a period of two days, by providing a capacity of approximately half a million gallons in each basin, and from there pumped directly into the mains.

These sedimentation basins of course would be of use only during the summer months, which in my opinion would overcome the present difficulties.

The accompanying estimates of cost will furnish you with information as to the cost of the various suggestions offered.

The new shore line indicated in red on the accompanying blue print will indicate to you the necessity for taking steps to protect against further erosion taking place on the City property.

I am submitting with this report an estimate of the cost of such protection work. I have stated this estimate on a lineal foot basis, so that you may be able to derive the cost for yourselves of any unit length which may be considered advisable to construct at any one period.

As an illustration, 150 lineal feet would cost $2,640, or, 100 lineal feet would cost $1,760.

I am also submitting an estimate of the cost of building a concrete pier in the river, to protect the outer extremity of the gravity intake pipe, as shown in red on the blue print.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Yours truly,
R. G. DAWE,
City Engineer.

Hindenburg Saw Troops Defeated

Paris, Sept. 22.—Ninety thousand men, directed personally by Field Marshal von Hindenburg, took part in yesterday's attacks on the new French positions in the region of Bouchevaines, on the Somme, according to La Liberté's special correspondent in the field.

Many additional artillery trains also had been brought up for the event. The result of the battle was disastrous for the attacking forces, division after division being decimated by the French. The fighting was extraordinarily fierce around Bouchevaines and Bois L'Abbe and at Comblès and at the Priez farm, as well as at Ranecourt.

TEHRIBLE HUN LOSSES

At Priez farm, two Prussian battalions were nearly destroyed, and a similar fate was suffered at Ranecourt by three German regiments, which, advancing in four waves, made the last desperate effort of the day. The extent of the German losses, says the dispatch, may be estimated by the fact that a company of the 11th Bavarian division lost 160 men out of 210 while regiments elsewhere lost 60 per cent of their effectives.

When Pigs Were Cheap

IN your grandfather's day---ask him about it---you could buy a dressed hog for three dollars; a nice big pig. And a live pig would cost you no more.

Everything in those bygone days was cheap---that is, the things of common use.

Clothes, boots, milk, bread, beefsteak, eggs, butter, lumber, farm labor, domestic servants---they all cost a good deal less than they do today.

It cost less to live---and less to be born---and less to die fifty years ago than today.

And it cost much less to publish a country weekly fifty years ago than it does today---very much less.

Yet you paid---or your grandfather did---just a dollar a year---the same as you are paying today.

But the dollar rate must yield to the pressure of necessity. We must do what we ought to have done years ago---raise the price of "The News" to $1.50. The tremendously increased costs of paper, ink, supplies, and the more-than-doubled cost of living have made us "furiously to think." And so, on and after October 15th the price of "The News" will be $1.50 a year to Canadian and British post offices; United States $2.00 a year; Army Post Office, London, England, $2.50 a year.

Good Readers All

If you were in our place, and knew all we know about the higher costs of publishing, you would wonder how we didn't make the advance long ago. We trust you to meet the new rate with a smile. Not for 50 cents a year will you say "Stop my paper."

BUT IT IS OUR DUTY TO LET YOU KNOW NOW WHAT'S COMING

Convalescent Hospital Opened

Friends in Red Deer are receiving photos of some of the scenes attending the opening of the Perkins Bull Convalescent hospital for Canadian officers at Putney Heath, London, England. The Canadian News, of London, England, devotes two pages to a full account of the formal inaugural from their special correspondent. The opening was performed on July 19 by the Lord Mayor of London, Col. Sir Charles Wakefield, who was accompanied by the Lady Mayoress and a number of the Lord's Privy Chamber, one of whom, Mr. Toulton, M.P., was among the speakers, who also included Mr. W. Perkins Bull, K.C., Sir Thomas Mackenzie, agent for New Zealand in London, Esq., Surgeon-General Carleton Jones, of the Canadian Army Medical Service, Sir Richard Haldane, agent for British Columbia in London, Esq., and Sir J. T. A. Gwynne, late Premier of Victoria, Australia. Brigadier-General the Duke of Teck is the patron of the hospital which contains 35 beds, all fully occupied. The hospital was the gift of Mr. Bull, Mr. J. T. Gwynne, Toronto, and other friends, and will form a valuable addition to the Canadian Convalescent service in England.

Letter From The Front

Rishoro Barracks, Shorncliffe, Kent

August 27, 1916

Dear Dad,---I think that nothing could be better for us to go in for (that is, proxy homesteading) as it would tend to make us settle down after the war. Most of the boys will lead a wild life after this as anybody who has been soldiering for about a year can live anywhere on practically nothing.

I 500 of the 89th left to-day for France. "B" Coy is attached to the 10th, the other companies are attached to the 31st. It was raining in buckets and the bunch were in very low spirits. Paul Steel, who just came out of hospital from a case of German measles, was taken along. He looked very sorrowful, and we felt very sorry for him. I was on picket at the Folkestone pier last night and met Billy Scott who used to drive the fire team. He has an injured eye and limps in his walk. Also met Jimmy Horne who drove the butcher wagon for Wilson. They both look well. They rub it in about our mountaineers (Gee, if you saw them you would too).

Enclosed you will find an article on the Lewis gun which we take up in our course. The work is very interesting. The sergeants just told us that we were one of the finest bunches that were ever drafted into the Depot and we are going to have an extra special course, learn all about the machine guns, how to ride horses with short reins, the timber and fence finding. We expect to be here for three or four months. The grub is getting better and we are quite satisfied. We will be first class gun men when we come through the school. So the Germans had better beware.

Hurrah! We are going to get a pass after doing three weeks squad drill and saluting by numbers, even saluting with ruddy canes, we are going to be allowed a six day pass. Hurrah! one letter, eight days to Scotland---Hurrah! Now for the time of our lives. Some more merry widows, Hal Hal.

Folkestone is a dandy place but, as you know it is the place of amusement for all Canadian soldiers, it is sort of spoilt for a good time.

We have a swim in the sea every Saturday morning. The whole battalion must attend. It was my first swim in the sea and gee, it was great. The waves rolled in so hard that they would knock you down if you stood up anywhere on the shingle. But that didn't bother me any. I got away out where it was smooth. It was indeed a treat.

We had a sermon by a Mr. Eddy, the secretary of the Y.M.C.A., who travels all around the world. He told us that he just came from the Black Watch camp in Yorkshire, and while there asked them what they thought was the greatest battle in this war. They said "The Canadians at Ypres." He said that they paid the Canadians the highest tribute that any man could pay when they asked, or Canadian volunteers to fight alongside of them, and at Courcelette (near Ypres) when the Black Watch were forced to retreat, the Canadians held the line by pure flesh and blood, until the Black Watch were able to reform again.

You can't realize the stand that the Canadians have over here. Nothing is too good for them. But too many of the boys get stuck upon themselves and spoil it. We are no better than any other of the allies troops and I don't like the boys to go around boasting about it. O well, I'm only over here to do my bit. Thanks, Dad, for the welcome you picture for us when we return. The best thing you can do for us is to have some lemon pie ready. It won't be there very long. You say you will welcome all our "wives and sweethearts." What do you think we are doing over here? No, Dad, The Canadian girls have it over the girls over here by a long way. Me for the Alberta girls every time.

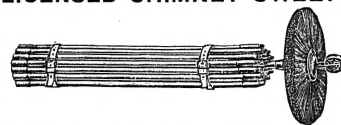

You speak about seeing war pictures. We get enough of those things as it is. We saw some pictures of Canada the other night. By gee, but how the boys did cheer to see the hindlers going along. Cannoneers in the north of Ontario, and lumbering in B.C. Gee, they were great. Well, as it is time again to scramble for some thing to eat, I will prepare for action and ring off.

Huns Have Paid Heavily for 41 Zeppelin Raids

14 Machines Lost at Cost of $3,500,000
---356 Have Been Killed

London, Sept. 18.---In the last two years there have been 41 Zeppelin raids on England---twenty-three in 1915 and eighteen in 1916, including the one last Sunday morning. The summary does not take into account the many aero and seaplane attacks and the numerous abortive attempts, which have been driven back at the coast or harked by shifting winds or misty weather. In these raids we take three Zeppelins as the average number and allow three tons of explosive and incendiary bombs as missiles, supposing each bomb weighs 50 pounds, we have approximately 15,000 as the number dropped on England or in the north sea in the last two years. The British government has made public the number of casualties after each raid, and these aggregate 356 dead and 989 wounded. This means that it takes more than a ton of German bombs for every British man, woman and child who has been killed. Since the war began it has been definitely reported that fourteen Zeppelins have been wrecked; the real number is probably much larger. It is estimated that it costs at least $250,000 to build a Zeppelin. This means that $3,500,000 is the amount the Germans have lost through the wrecking of Zeppelins alone. These 14 Zeppelins did no military damage, their only value to Germany has been reconnaissance work over the North Sea.

Says War Must Last Over Winter; Allied Army Has Better Guns, Rifles and Ammunition Than Enemy

Lord Derby Sounds Hopeful Note On Return from the Front

London, Sept. 26.—"I wish I could pick one of my horses as a winner with the certainty of victory for the Entente Allies," said Lord Derby, the British under secretary for war, on receiving the American correspondent on his return from a visit to France, where, in company with Sir Douglas Haig and Gen. Joffre, he saw the trials of the "tanks" before they were sent into the battle against the Germans. Lord Derby continued:

"We are fighting the most organized nation in the world and it would be a reflection on our own troops not to admit that the Germans are showing extraordinary bravery. Two years ago they had a great chance to win. They still are exceedingly strong in numbers of destruction but we at least are even in this respect now, and I cannot help feeling that our men individually are better. So we have to have a distinct margin of superiority."

"INCREASE IS POSSIBLE.
"We are able to continue to increase the arms, munitions and food of our troops and we will get more men if needed, but no concrete proposal has been made yet to increase the age limit. I cannot say such suggestion finds me unprepared as before I came to the war after I announced my policy was in favor of mobilizing every man in the country under the age of sixty so that each could be placed in his proper place, either fighting, making munitions or carrying out the ordinary business of the country."

"Recent raids of the military on stations and places of amusement pretty plainly have proved there are very few slackers left and that the eligible men under the present conscription law either are in the army or are properly judged for other work."

OFFENSIVE WILL CONTINUE

"I found everyone at the front cheerful. You may rest assured the offensive will be continued. If there seems to be a lull, it will be necessary to make a study of the German casualty list. Mr. Boshé will not be allowed to go into winter quarters in company with Joffre and Haig. I watched the trials of the tanks, a sight which provoked unstrained laughter despite the terrible power they displayed, crossed trenches, cutting their way through wire entanglements and even through groves of trees."

OIL INVESTIGATION HAS DIED A NATURAL DEATH

Majority of Witnesses Have Been Found to be Unavailable

What appears to be the last chapter of the oil investigation, as far as Calgary is concerned, was written this morning, when G. A. Trainor, solicitor, on behalf of the provincial government, stated that there were only two more witnesses to be investigated at Edmonton. Just what date the hearing will open there was not announced.

It was expected that the investigation would reopen this morning, his honor, Judge Lees, of Wetaskiwin, presiding. But Judge Lees was not there in person and the investigation was adjourned sine die. Unusual and unexpected difficulties have been encountered since the investigation was opened before Judge Lees in that the most important witnesses are not available—many of them are out of the jurisdiction and a large proportion of these have left the Dominion with some of the overseas assets. Still others, of the promoter class, are promoting in pastures new.

EAT'S GILLETTE BIRT GULANS DISTILLERY

$3,000,000 Order is Nice Plum for P. Burns Co.

Three million dollars' worth of cured meats, hams and pork for the French army, to be delivered from November to March, is the nice order from P. Burns & Co., of Calgary, just won by the Canadian packing in competition with the largest Chicago firms.

There is also a large chilled beef order for the same firm, although the particulars cannot be disclosed yet. It is estimated it will take 350,000 hogs to fill the first contract. The order, the representative of the packers there has been no difficulty about getting filling room.

KEEN COMPETITION

There is keen competition at present in France between Canadian and United States firms. A number of lines have been opened up, and it is believed that United States firms are held back by French orders, an indication coming from the States having just arrived in France.

The recent visit of the Canadian trade commission did immensely good, and the United States found fine displays of the various Canadian commodities when they arrived at the trade exhibition held at Bordeaux.

A Fine Showing

Canada's trade figures in this eventful year are wonderful. In July for instance, our exports of merchandise amounted to $160,000,000, as against $148,000,000 for July, 1915. For the twelve months ending with July, exports totalled $1,681,000,000, as against $1,499,000,000 for the last corresponding period. The total trade for the twelve months was $1,704,000,000, as compared with $1,519,000,000 for the corresponding period. That is, we are more than doubling our export and general trade. Railway returns show immensely increased earnings, notwithstanding the shortage of help. Canadian industries generally have expanded. The chief growth of business has, of course, been in the marketing of war materials, but the remarkable upturn in general business has brought good markets for nearly all things. The trouble now is rather to get materials, supplies and help. Railway deliveries are going into short distances in the Toronto district are held up in cars for weeks. Terminal capacity and labor for handling are inadequate. Conditions such as these demonstrate that the great expansion of our external trade has been attended by great development of domestic trade. In July the imports amounted to $160,000,000, as compared with $148,000,000 in July, 1915. Considering the expansion in exports, and the increased tendency to buy across the border because of the labor scarcity in Canada has forced up prices, that is not an extravagant showing. As far as they are able, Canadians seem to be able to get on from indulgence in foreign luxuries. The Dominion Finance Minister could not have chosen a more opportune time than September for his new war loan, and it trade conditions are an index, there ought to be a large demand for the bonds.—Mail and Empire.

Ontario Bars Closed

Toronto, Sept. 17.—The dry season in Toronto commenced sharply at 7 o'clock Saturday night, when the Ontario Temperance act came into force. There was practically no disorder, though in a few quarters there were some noisy demonstrations. Extra police were on duty but had no call on their services. Many hotels closed before the regular time, their stocks being sold out; some did not open all day. In the bars of those which kept open there was no trouble except with a few souvenir hunters—after shaves and water pickers. The retail shops which kept open did a roaring trade, some of them until the last minute. Police, license officials and hotel men unite in the statement that there was very little drunkenness.

Dispatches received from many points indicate that the prohibition measure went into effect without any particular striking incidents. In London, Ont., the hotels will raise their rates 50 cents a day all round.

Premier Scott, Saskat- chewan, Seriously Ill

Regina, Sask., Sept. 16.—Hon. Walter Scott, premier of Saskatchewan, has been confined to his bed for the last week with or acute attack of asthma and is in a very low condition. He is not allowed to receive visitors, and his medical advisers have recommended that he be kept completely quiet.

The present condition of Premier Scott's health is considered to be very serious by his most intimate friends. The premier has been a victim of asthma for several years, which necessitated his traveling in a good deal to countries with warmer climate. In 1912 he had a very severe attack and for a time his life was despaired of. The present attack is said to be as great, if not even more acute than that which he suffered in 1912.

Great Dobrudja Battle Ends in Disastrous Rout of Enemy

Mackensen Retires, Burning Villages in His Retreat

London, Sept. 21.—German, Bulgarian and Turkish troops under Field Marshal von Mackensen have been defeated in the Roumanian province of Dobrudja, according to the official announcement from Bucharest. It is declared that the invaders have retired to the south and are burning villages in their retreat.

The great battle, which was the climax of von Mackensen's swift campaign in the Dobrudja district immediately after the declaration of war by Roumania, began on September 15, and ended, says Roumanian headquarters, on the 20th.

With reference to these operations, Berlin merely says that "fighting in Dobrudja has come to a standstill." Roumanians, Russians and Serbians were pitted against the invaders, and strong reinforcements having been hurried to Dobrudja when the operations under the noted German field marshal threatened to overwhelm a section of Roumania. A strong line

Premier's Son is Killed in Action

London, Sept. 18.—Lieut. Raymond Asquith, son of Premier Asquith, was killed in action on September 15, it was announced today. Raymond Asquith, who was in his 18th year, was a graduate of Oxford, president of the Oxford union and prominent as a member of the bar, in which he was admitted in 1909. He acted as junior counsel for Great Britain in the North Atlantic fisheries arbitration at The Hague in 1907. He was made a second lieutenant in a county of London regiment in 1914 and lieutenant of the Grenadier guards in 1915.

Royal Prince Reported Dead in Balkan Fight

Frederick William of Hesse, a nephew of Emperor William, is a victim of the Balkan fighting.

Berlin, via London, Sept. 15.—Prince Frederick William of Hesse has been killed at Caranum, it was officially announced by the war office. The prince was reported wounded in the fighting in France in September, 1914. Prince Frederick William was the second son of Prince Frederick Charles of Hesse and Princess Margarete, sister of the German empress.

Wedding Bells

On Wednesday, September 20th, a quiet but very pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Geo. S. Blake, when their only daughter, Miss Mary, was united in marriage to William E. Blake, of New Toronto, by the Rev. J. G. Meek, B.A., of Willowdale.

The bride was tastefully dressed in a gray lace over salmon crepe de chene and was altogether beautiful under her veil and orange blossoms. The bridesmaid, Miss Sadie Connor, looked lovely in a pale salmon trimmed with lace.

As the strains of the wedding march resounded, under the skilled fingers of Mrs. Sparke, the groom, supported by the bride's brother, Donald, took his place to wait for his bride, who came in the arms of her father and gradually stood beside him.

After the ceremony all repaired to the dining room where a delicious lunch awaited them.

The happy couple were in receipt of many beautiful presents. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch and chain, to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet with pearls, while the bridesmaid received a pair of gold earrings. Among the bride's presents was a handsome check from her father.

Amid the showers of rice and good wishes the young couple were whirled away in an auto to Innisfail, where after a night's rest they took the morning train to Calgary, and thence to Kinross, Vancouver, Toronto, and Sydneyham, their old home, where many will welcome the man and woman who were once children in that town, the groom being the fourth son of the late Robert Caldwell of that city. After a brief visit and the scenes of their childhood they will take up their abode on Fourth Ave., New Toronto, where Mr. Caldwell has an important position as telegraph operator.

Their many friends of Hill End and vicinity join in wishing them a long and happy life.

A range you can easily control

It is wonderfully simple and easy to regulate both your cooking and the expenditure of fuel, money. And easy to manage, means easy to economize, you know.

All the Kootenay controls are on the outside. For instance, how infinitely easier to control the damper from the front of the stove—The Kootenay way.

than to bend over the hot top to reach it! Surprising how quickly one gets almost complete control of every bit of heat, making it to your bidding. You keep an eye on the thermometer, and the smokepipe fire saver, handy dampers, and on the oven that loses no heat; all work together for splendid cooking at least expense.

You want to know about the sensible ideas for saving time, the fine bakings you can do with a small amount of fuel, and the way the range withstands the wear and tear that wrecks ordinary ranges; its aluminum flues mean long life to the range because the coated steel linings are rust-proof; asbestos joints prevent leakage of air at joints.

The marriage of Agnes Marian Louise Webb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Webb, to Frederick Albert Hockey, was solemnized at St. Luke's Church, Red Deer, Monday morning, September 25th. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. N. Finn, the pastor, in the presence of immediate relatives and friends.

Hadley, Master-at-Arms, of I.L.M.S. Shearwater, attended the groom as best man, attired in naval uniform, an unusual incident for an inland city, and apparently appreciated by the happy couple with whom he had been life long friends. After the ceremony the wedding party returned to the home of the bride's parents, accompanied by the Rev. G. N. Finn, where the wedding breakfast was served. The number of beautiful and varied presents proved the respect and esteem in which the newly wedded couple were held by their friends, and included gifts from the pupils of the bride. Mrs. Hockey will be much missed, particularly in musical matters, the being a talented musician of the Royal Academy, London, Eng., her favorite instruments being the cello and piano.
